Aims: The Society aims to promote scientific knowledge in the field of forensic genetics. This is to be accomplished by scientific meetings of the Society, meetings of regional working groups, and by scientific publications.

Membership: Any academic graduate, dealing scientifically with genetic markers in human blood, can apply for full membership. Corporate members (e. g. commercial companies) can be enrolled as members, but they do not have the right to vote. Applications for membership must be made to the Executive Committee of the Society together with references from two full members. Admission to the Society is subject to the decision of the Executive Committee.
